In this release, we present:

Definitions and Measurements

Consumer Price Index (CPI) measures changes in the price of a fixed basket of goods and services purchased by households.

Consumer price inflation is the rate at which the prices of goods and services bought by households rise or fall. It is measured as the percentage change in the CPI between two periods.

Inflation is measured monthly using data on prices of 307 items in the CPI basket purchased by households from 57 markets with 8,337 outlets. The items are ordered into 13 Divisions, 44 Groups, 98 classes, and 156 sub-classes.

The weight reference period is 2017 but the price reference period has been updated to 2021 (2021=100) to incorporate the 6 new regions.

Inflation is reported as end-of-period or average:

End-of Period (eop) inflation could be year-on-year (YoY), quarter-on-quarter (QoQ) or month-on-month (MoM); and

Average inflation is usually reported as annual average.

Recent Innovations to CPI/Inflation Release

1. Reports on decomposition of Inflation into Goods and Services to provide targeted insights into the structure and drivers of inflation.
2. Reports on Annual Average Inflation Data to complement End-of-Period Inflation data.
3. Reports on Contributions to inflation to assess the drivers of inflation.
4. Provides Infographics on CPI/Inflation to turn the release into clear, visual insights that make price trends easy for everyone to grasp.
5. Includes a section on Recommendations to help translate the data into practical actions for policymakers, businesses, and households.

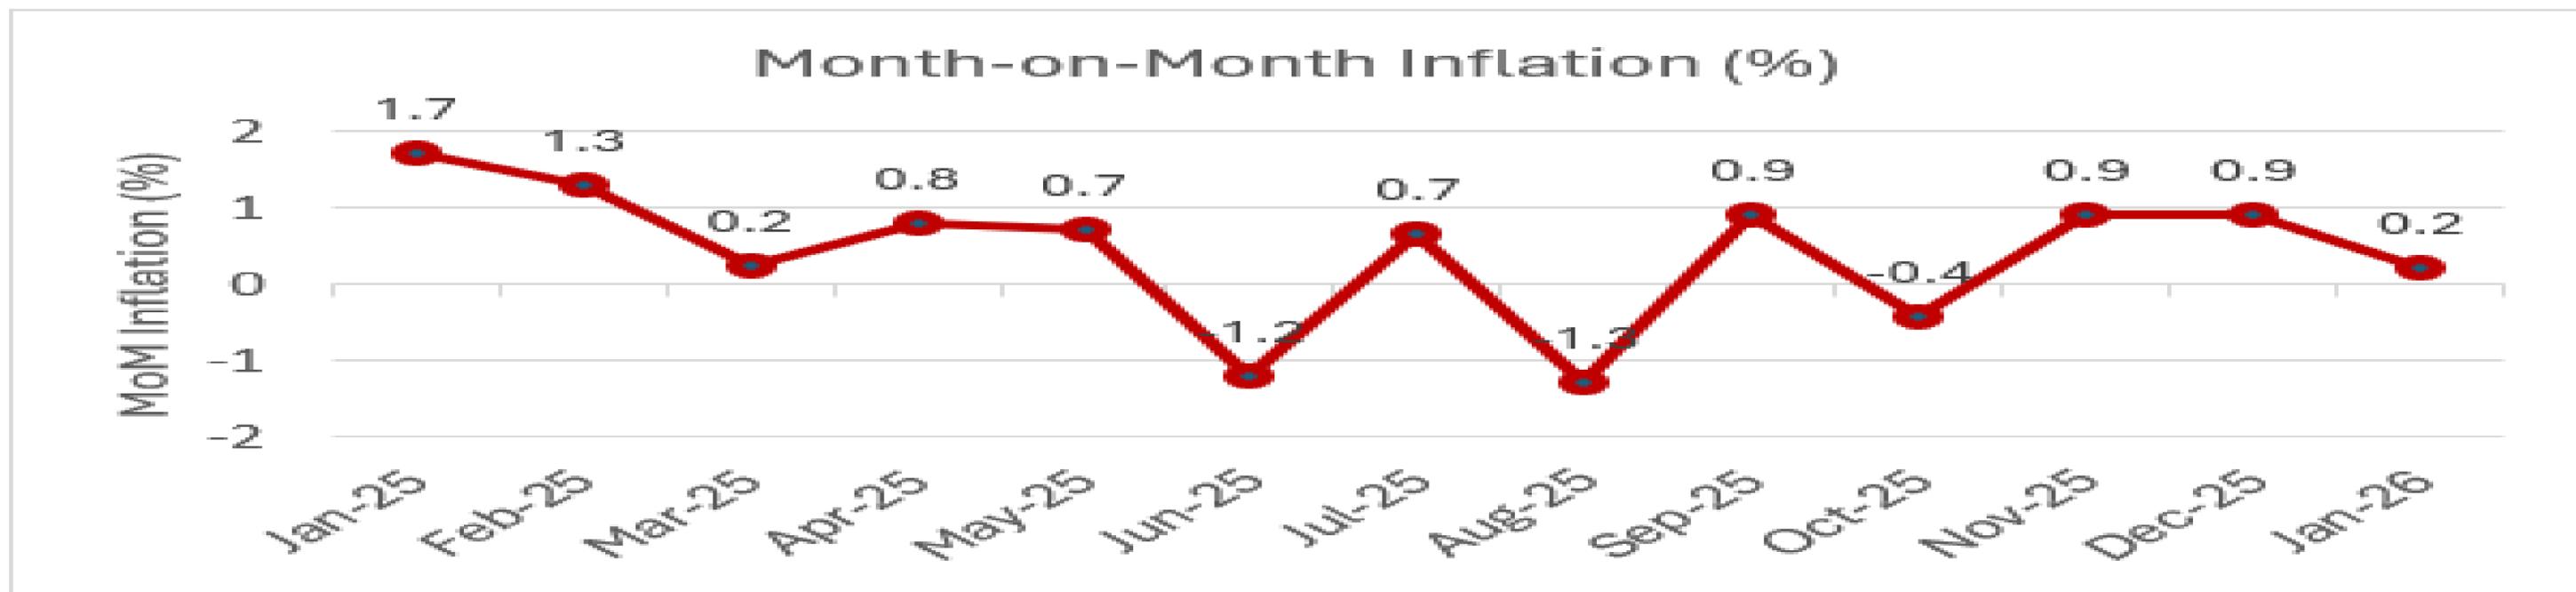

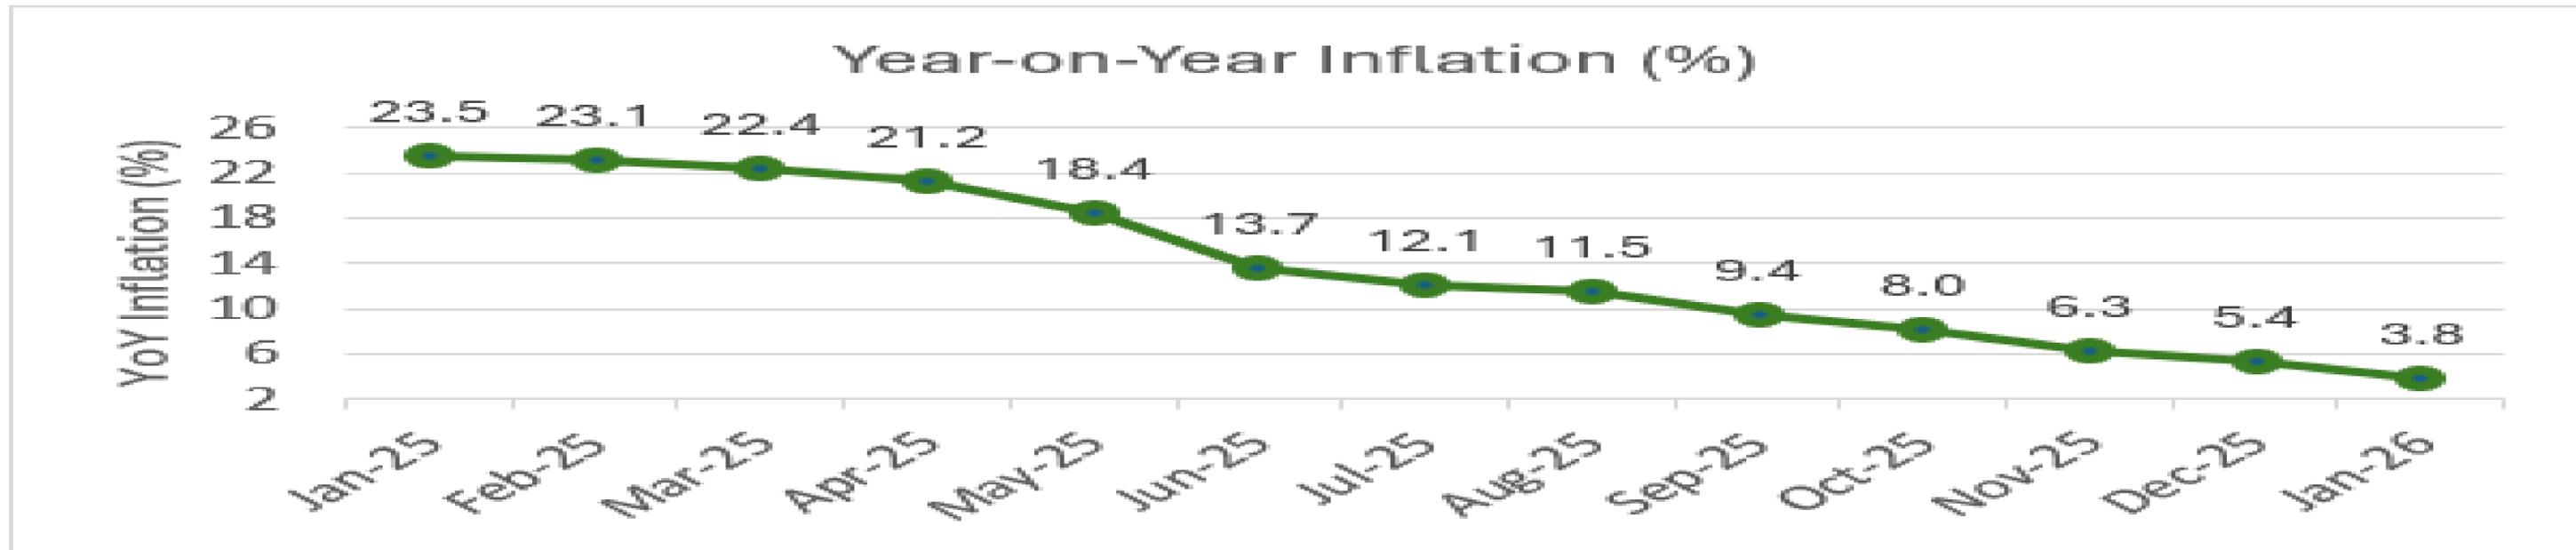

Highlights of January 2026 CPI and Inflation (1)

1. The CPI for Jan 2026 was 262.3 up from 252.6 in Jan 2025, translating into a Year-on-Year (YoY) inflation of 3.8% for Jan 2025.
2. This means that on the average, the price of goods and services increased by 3.8% between Jan 2025 and Jan 2026.
3. The Month-on-Month (MoM) inflation rate for Jan 2026 was 0.2%, meaning that the general price level increased by 0.2% between Dec 2025 and Jan 2026.
4. The Jan 2025 YoY Inflation is:
 - i. the 13th consecutive drop in inflation;
 - ii. the lowest inflation since price rebasing in 2021;
 - iii. 1.6 ppts drop from the December 2025 inflation of 5.4%; and
 - iv. 19.7 ppts drop from the Jan 2025 inflation of 23.5%.
5. The steady drop in inflation from 23.5% in Jan 2025 to 3.8% in January 2026 shows a sustained shift in prices that signals Ghana is firmly on the path to macroeconomic stability.

Key Takeaways

1. Ghana's inflation dropped to 3.8% in Jan 2026, down from 5.4% in Dec 2025 and below the 23.5% recorded in Jan 2025 by 19.7 ppts. This is the lowest rate since rebasing in 2021 and the 13th straight month of decline.
2. Overall prices increased by 0.2% between Dec 2025 and Jan 2026.
3. Food inflation fell to 3.9% in Jan 2026, down from 4.9% in Dec 2025. Food prices increased by 1.1% between Dec and Jan 2026.
4. Non-food inflation eased to 3.8% in Jan 2026 from 5.8% in Dec 2025. Non-food prices, however, decreased by 0.5% month-to-month.
5. Inflation for goods slowed to 3.6% in Jan 2026 from 5.8% in Dec 2025. However, goods prices increase by 0.05% month-to-month. Since goods account for nearly $\frac{3}{4}$ of the CPI basket, the slowdown in goods inflation is a relief for consumers where it matters most.
6. Services inflation eased to 4.0% in Jan 2026 from 4.5% in Dec 2025. Month-on-month services increased by 0.3% between Dec 2025 and Jan 2026.
7. Inflation for locally produced items fell from 5.9% in Dec 2025 to 4.5% in Jan 2026, while the prices for imported items decreased from 4.3% to 2.0%.
8. Sharp regional differences persist as Inflation is uneven across the country. North East Region recorded the highest rate at 11.2%, while Savannah had the lowest at -2.6%. Local supply, transport costs, and market access could be driving these gaps.

Recommendations

BUSINESSES

With inflation easing, businesses now have room to:

- invest in efficiency;
- strengthen local supply chains;
- reduce inefficiencies and unnecessary costs; and
- translate savings into more stable prices for consumers.

1

HOUSEHOLDS

- With inflation easing, families can plan their budgets with greater confidence.
- This is the time to track spending on food, rent, and school fees, avoid non-essential expenses, and set aside small savings whenever possible to strengthen household finances

2

GOVERNMENT

- Stay the course on fiscal discipline;
- sustain efforts to stabilize food prices; and
- target investments in storage, irrigation, transport, and market access to reduce regional disparities.
